PROJECTS

Luxpitality — Jr Front End Developer

I helped with designing front end designs using JavaScript.

This company is about booking boutique hotels around the world for individuals and or groups.

Cognitive Science 187A - Architecture Design of ArticPass

As a group we designed a Password keeper competing with big names like DUO, Google Authentication, and 1Password.

We worked with Figma, the collaborative interface design tool.

The purpose we designed a “password keeper” was because during quarantine we new parents would have a difficult time remembering their children's passwords especially in the elementary school age.
